DETAILED ACTION

Election/ Restriction

Claims 1-32 are pending in this application.

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-22, drawn to a semiconductor device having a contactless EEPROM array, classified in class 257, subclass 316.

- II. Claims 23-28, drawn to a method for using EEPROM cells, classified in class 365, subclass 185.24.

- III. Claims 29-32, drawn to a method of manufacturing an EEPROM array, classified in class 438, subclass 266.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case unpatentability of the Invention I would not necessarily imply unpatentability of the Invention III, since the device of the Invention I could be made by processes materially different from those of the Invention III; and unpatentability of the Invention III would not necessarily imply unpatentability of the Invention I, since the process of the Invention III could be used to make a product materially different from the Invention I. For example, the device of the Invention I can be made without the claimed “removing the heavily doped area in the exposed top silicon layer” of the Invention III; and the process of the Invention III could be used to make a device with self-aligned source/drain regions and self-aligned grooves.

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, for example, the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with, for example, an EEPROM array with contacts and without buried source lines.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, the method of using and the method of forming are not disclosed as capable of use together, and furthermore they have different functions as implied by the preamble.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their different classification and their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
